

Virginia Department of Mines Minerals and Energy

Serious Injury Accident

February 26, 2004

A mine employee was seriously injured when his left arm was caught in the moving lime screw conveyor; he sustained severe injuries to his left arm. After extricating him from the equipment, he was air-lifted to a hospital trauma center.

Never work on electrically-powered equipment without first locking-out and tagging-out the power.